Company Update

Steering steady growth

We retain BUY on Ecos Mobility and revise our TP upwards to Rs. 375 (vs. Rs. 365 earlier) as we roll forward to Q2FY28E. The company delivered another strong quarter with its best-ever revenue, driven by robust growth across its divisions. The ETS segment (~59% of sales) continues to demonstrate strong execution and a well-diversified client base across industries and geographies, enabling consistent market share gains and revenue stability. CCR division remains a natural complement, witnessing sustained traction as corporate travel rebounds and premiumization trends accelerate. Our channel checks with key vendors reaffirm Ecos's growing business share relative to peers. With a proven ability to scale profitably, an asset-light model, and average OCF/EBITDA conversion exceeding 80%, we believe Ecos is well-positioned to deliver steady, profitable growth while maintaining a robust balance sheet. Valuations remain attractive.

- Robust topline growth: Ecos Mobility reported a 34.2% YoY (+18.3% QoQ) increase in revenue to Rs.2,142mn in Q2FY26, marking its best-ever quarterly performance. The growth was broad-based across both business verticals — Chauffeur-driven Car Rental (CCR) and Employee Transport Services (ETS) — with the CCR division outpacing ETS during the quarter. The revenue mix stood at CCR: 41% and ETS: 59%, compared to 39% and 61%, respectively, in the previous year.
- Margin performance impacted by one-time provision: Gross margins for the quarter expanded by 11bps YoY (+24bps QoQ) to 27.6%, supported by stable pricing and improved operational efficiency. However, OPM contracted by 333bps YoY (-60bps QoQ) to 11.5%, primarily due to a sharp increase in other expenses (+201.4% YoY to Rs. 128 mn), which included a one-time doubtful debt provision of Rs.60mn. Adjusting for this exceptional item, normalized EBITDA margins stood at 14.2%, broadly in line with 14.8% in the previous year. EBITDA grew 4.1% YoY to Rs246mn, while PAT declined 7.3% YoY to Rs146mn.
- Outlook: Ecos Mobility delivered a strong outperformance on the topline, well ahead of our expectations. We believe the company is well-placed to sustain this growth momentum, driven by a steady expansion in clientele within its ETS vertical, where it continues to set industry benchmarks in reliability and scale. The CCR division is also expected to accelerate further as corporate travel demand strengthens and premiumization trends become more pronounced. The company expanded its fleet base to over 18,000 vehicles during the quarter and now operates across 128+ cities in India and 30+ countries globally, underscoring its strong execution capabilities and geographic depth. With rising wallet share from both existing and new enterprise clients—particularly across Tier-I and Tier-II cities—and continued focus on technology-led efficiencies, we believe Ecos is well-positioned to deliver sustained revenue growth, operating leverage, and gradual margin expansion in the coming quarters.
- Valuation, view & key risks: Our estimates remain unchanged; and factoring Revenue/EBITDA/PAT CAGR of 19%/19%/18% over FY25–FY28E. Stock trades at 17x FY27E and 14.1x FY28E earnings. We value the stock at 25x Q2FY28e EPS of Rs. 15.1, arriving at a target price of Rs. 375. Additionally, the company continues to generate healthy operating cash flows and deliver superior return ratios. Key risks include loss of key clients, potential travel restrictions, and delays in the expansion or setting up of new GCCs.

Dealer channel checks insights

We recently conducted an extensive round of vendor channel checks for Ecos Mobility, engaging with over 10 vendors across key markets such as Bangalore, Hyderabad, Gurgaon, Delhi, Mumbai, and Pune. These conversations provided valuable on-ground insights into Eco's operations, vendor relationships, and overall industry positioning.
